STATE LIBRARIAN

The Maryland State Library (MSL) celebrated our third year as an independent agency. We’ve learned so much and continue to expand the types of services we provide to our customers.

We are proud to announce that in fiscal year 2020, MSL:

• Distributed over $2.2 million in federal grant awards to support Maryland public libraries, an increase of over 300% since the agency was established in 2017.
• Changed the name of the Maryland State Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped to the Maryland State Library for the Blind and Print Disabled (LBPD) and added the requirement that one member of the Maryland State Library Board shall be a blind patron of the LBPD by unanimous approval of the Maryland General Assembly during the 2020 session (SB 326 and HB 604) and passed into law effective October 1, 2020.
• Relocated MSL headquarters to 25 South Charles St., Suite 1310, Baltimore, MD 21201.
• Provided continuous mail and phone service to blind and low vision customers throughout the pandemic thanks to the commitment of the LBPD staff.
• Opened the Maryland Deaf Culture Digital Library website: www.marylanddcdl.org.
• Issued the Maryland Day By Day Family Literacy Activity Forever Calendar, including an interactive online version: www.daybydaymd.org.
• Sponsored the One Maryland One Book selection What the Eyes Don’t See by Mona Hanna-Attisha.
• Hosted the fifth annual MD Tech Connect conference at USM Shady Grove campus, featuring Maryland libraries’ exciting technology projects.
• Partnered with Maryland Census and the Maryland Department of Planning to provide timely and accurate information to library systems about the 2020 Census.
• Received an increase of more than 40% for the FY 2021 County Public Library Capital Grants program, which will provide $7,300,000 (an increase of $2.3 million) for library building renovations and construction. In 2020, two new libraries opened in Anne Arundel County (Michael E. Busch Annapolis Library) and St. Mary’s County (Leonardtown Library).
• Developed Best Practices for Reopening Maryland Libraries to provide statewide guidance and recommendations on the phased reopening of Maryland public libraries during COVID-19 and developed a web guide entitled COVID-19 Resources for Maryland Libraries, a compendium of information and resources to assist decision-making about reopening.

Maryland libraries remain resilient and responsive to their communities’ needs and will continue to provide crucial library services to ensure that our communities are strong and well-positioned for a rapid recovery from the coronavirus pandemic.

CAPITAL GRANTS

Maryland’s Public Library Capital Grants Program mandates that five million dollars be included in the state budget every year. Goals of the program include geographic diversity in the distribution of awards, as well as a wealth-based match formula to encourage local jurisdictions to fund urgent and necessary public library development across the state. The grant program continues to meet the goal of geographic diversity in the distribution of awards; 23 of the state’s 24 library systems received funds to renovate, expand or construct library facilities. FY2020 marks the thirteenth year that state assistance has been made available to public libraries in Maryland. Since FY2008, $60,025,000 has been authorized, which has generated an estimated $350,000,000 dollars in local matching funds. This program has funded not only important renovations but also opened an astounding 17 new libraries, two of which opened in FY2020.

The Maryland State Library for the Blind and Print Disabled continued its core services even throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, including mailing digital talking book machines, accessories, digital talking books and braille books to 8,745 new and existing library patrons. Additionally, many of the events and programs scheduled for 2020 were moved from an in-person format to a teleconference platform.

Library Events & Programs

Nearly 3,500 patrons, caregivers, stakeholders and potential patrons participated in library hosted events and programs. This included innovative, collaborative programs such as Build a Better Book with the Baltimore-based makerspace, Full Blast Steam, tactile tours of the Goddard Space Flight Center and M&T Bank Stadium, and teleconferences focused on family, education, and healthy living in partnership with the University of Maryland Extension program.

Making College Accessible

The Maryland Accessible Textbook program converted over 6,000 chapters to digital format from textbooks for 47 Maryland college students.
Maryland libraries met the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic by quickly pivoting services and programs to new formats and by continuing to provide essential services to communities across the state. While branches were closed, libraries extended WiFi beyond their buildings, allowing residents to access vital Internet connections from parking lots and community spaces. Library staff continued to engage customers by providing robust virtual programming, from storytimes to conversations on equity and justice. Libraries also continued to provide contactless services, including book pickup, remote printing and 3D printing services, and phone and virtual reference help.

Additionally, libraries and communities benefited from $546,279 in CARES Act funding, distributed by MSL for the purchase of PPE, WiFi hotspots and circulating devices, and staff training around pandemic response.

“Our family believes that the library is doing a fantastic job in supporting the literacy needs of our family.”
